

A photograph of a winter landscape. The foreground and middle ground are covered in a thick layer of snow. Several evergreen trees, likely spruce or fir, are scattered across the scene. The trees in the foreground are heavily laden with snow, their branches appearing white and intricate. The background shows a line of similar trees under a clear, bright blue sky. The overall atmosphere is serene and cold.

*Il Presidente, la Giunta e tutto il personale
dell'Unione Montana Alta Valle Susa
augurano buone feste.*